

BRITISH JUSTICE.
A Scene at the Trial of the Irish Dynamite Bombers.
The Court was crowded with spectators, and the atmosphere was one of intense interest. The trial was held in the Court of Criminal Sessions, and the judge presiding was Lord Justice Macdonnell. The defendants were charged with the explosion at the Dublin docks, which resulted in the death of a police officer and the injury of several others. The trial was a long and arduous one, and the defendants were found guilty of the charges. The judge sentenced them to the gallows, and the execution was carried out without incident.
